

International FOOD Contest - the meeting place for dairy people is back International FOOD Contest (IFC) is prepared to continue the long and strong tradition for assessments and exhibition of dairy products in October this year.

After the cancellation last year, the Programme Committee is satisfied that the reopening of the society is performing well, so exhibitions and fairs can return to a new normality.

- All though we will follow more corona safe guidelines with hand sanitizer and more space around the products, we expect the heart of IFC with tasting samples of the many assessed products will be possible in a new way, says Lars Johannes Nielsen, Project Leader of IFC on behalf of the steering committee, which counts representatives of the danish dairies and associations. The food part with other food products takes a timeout this year, but besides of that, the fair continues as recent years model with a combination of the hi Tech & Industry Scandinavia and a heavy range of professional activities in MCH Messecenter Herning.

- We are so excited to be back after the cancellation last year, and we expect a big accumulated need to meet colleagues and suppliers to get an update of professional and technical knowledge, he says.

hi Tech & Industry Scandinavia – interdisciplinary inspiration

This year's hi Tech & Industry Scandinavia is the perfect place to meet and network face to face with colleagues across different work fields/ industries. The expo is held every second year (alternately with FoodTech). In 2019 the expo had more than 700 exhibitors and 20.000 visitors, which makes it the largest technology and industry expo in Scandinavia. Besides of the core with industrial equipment the fair is a bridge builder to the food industry, first of all the dairy industry, which simultaneously run the International FOOD Contest.
